

A photograph taken from a low angle looking up at the underside of a bridge. The bridge's steel truss structure is visible, with several beams and girders. A large, orange rectangular sign is mounted on the right side of the bridge. The sign has the word 'DANGER' in large, bold, black letters at the top, and 'LOW CLEARANCE' in smaller, bold, black letters below it. To the right of 'DANGER', the letters '11 F' are partially visible. The background shows green trees and a clear sky, indicating an outdoor setting. The lighting suggests it is daytime.
