

A photograph showing a concrete retaining wall with a prominent vertical crack. A thick steel cable runs horizontally across the top of the wall. The foreground consists of asphalt pavement with white painted lines and some weeds growing at the base of the wall. The background is filled with dense green foliage.

09/23/2020